Alma Mater

On the city's northern border,
Reared against the skys,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater,
As the years go by.

May it ever be our watchword,
"Conquer and Prevail,"
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Dear old Wofford, Hail!

Cherished by thy sons forever,
Memories sweet will throng
Round our hearts, dear Alma Mater,
As we sing thy song.

When we from thy halls have parted,
And life's battle on,
Thy great spirit shall inspire us
Till eternal dawn.

“WALLY” WOFFORD

This is Wally Wofford. He is born in many towns, in many states, though he is primarily a South Carolinian. For four years of his life, his home is Wofford College, and his life is the heartbeat of Wofford.

Here he learns. He learns from books, and more than books. He learns about winning and losing . . . on tests, in intramurals, in intercollegiate sports, in friendships. There are classes and military drills and parties and dances and ball games and concerts and bull sessions and letters and people met everywhere that enrich the experiences of his college life. Sometimes the meaning of these things is not clear. Yet, however confused Wally may be when he leaves Wofford, his confusion will soon fade into a more mature understanding of his world.

For while life at Wofford may end at graduation for Wally, the experience of having been at Wofford will always remain with him.

The pages of this book seek to show you the Life of Wally, a Wofford student.

THE 1957
BOHEMIAN

Foreword

The editor would like to express his gratitude to the long-enduring staff of THE 1957 BOHEMIAN whose speed made up for his own slowness, to Mr. Robert Willis, the tireless camera man, and to Mr. E. T. O'Cain whose suggestions were of great value. These were the men who made this book possible.

It is difficult to put onto paper something that orators find impossible to express in words but that is the object of this yearbook. In the pages of this book you will see pictures of men, of buildings, of activities, of a limitless number of things that are a part of the life of a student. These pictures show a great many scenes but they, like all pictures, fail to tell the true story. If you know the buildings, the men seen in these pages—if you know Wofford—then you know the story far better than this book can ever hope to tell it.

Professor J. L. Salmon

D e d i c a t i o n

It was Robert E. Lee who said that "duty" was the noblest word in the English language. Wofford men can better appreciate what Lee meant by saying that, because they have seen a gentleman's sense of duty enshrined in the life of Professor John Leonard Salmon. His consecrated devotion to the interests of Wofford and her students has always made "Fisn" a popular and much-admired professor.

For thirty-five years Professor Salmon has worked with Wofford men, touching their lives in many invaluable and unforgettable ways. He is a member of these national organizations that have chapters at Wofford: Phi Beta Kappa, Blue Key, Delta Phi Alpha, Beta Pi Theta, and Sigma Delta Pi. He also has a life membership as an honorary member of the Wofford Glee Club.

Because he has been so much a part of Wofford over these many years and because he has been such an important teacher and advisor and friend to us all, we, with humility and in thankfulness, dedicate the 1957 BOHEMIAN to Professor Salmon.

Dr. Francis P. Gaines, President

The President

This is the close of the fifth year in which Dr. Gaines has served as president of Wofford. Dr. Gaines has given the college effective leadership and has seen plans for Wofford's extensive development program mature in many ways. This past year saw a greater number of alumni support this college than had ever supported another college anywhere in the country.

The development program means a big step forward for Wofford, and Dr. Gaines is a key figure in the story of this success. He has served in many important capacities in inter-college educational groups. This past year he was elected treasurer of the South Carolina Foundation of Independent Colleges.

His presence at Wofford has been significantly felt by all who have known him here. In five short years Dr. Gaines has come to mean much to the life of this small liberal arts college.

Board of Trustees

There are a great many problems which face the college which the student is totally unaware of. The Board of Trustees, under the direction of Dwight Patterson, solves these problems and is continually striving for the betterment of the college and its facilities.

This year the Greene Hall deed was officially turned over to the college. Also, plans were made for the ultra-modern dormitory-student building and a music building.

This year the Board of Trustees were duly responsible for the alumni program success. Wofford's alumnus, with 78% participation, toppled the national record set by Dartmouth College. Our sincere congratulations and hearty thanks to these men for their unending work for Wofford.

The Faculty

The responsibility of teaching is no trifle and in college a great deal of learning takes place under the guidance of the professor. He tries to enlighten his students about his subject through the more complete understanding he has of the subject. But more valuable than any particular subject is what the professor teaches the student about the student himself, for that's what really helps a person grow into maturity.

The great distinction of the Wofford faculty is exactly in this area. The men we affectionately know as "Dr. Charlie" and "Fish" and "L. P." and "Willie B." and "Chuck" and "C<sup>2</sup>" and "Smiley," along with the other fine professors we regard so highly as our personal friends, are the men who have made Wofford mean something to us.

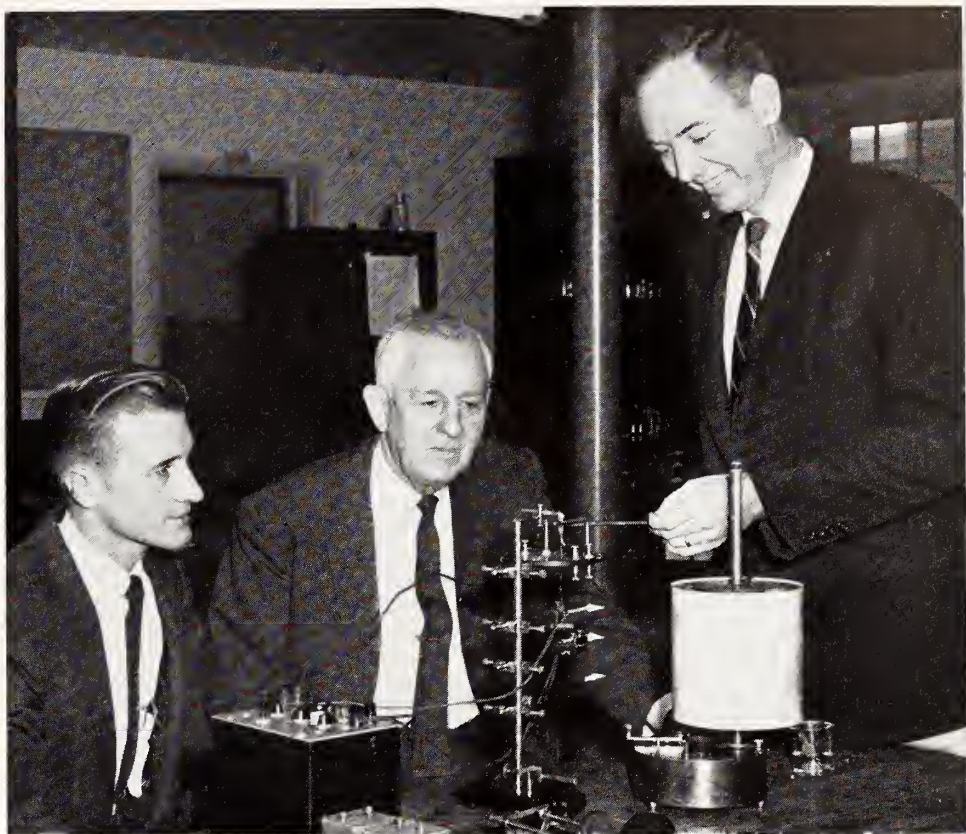

At Wofford, it is in this distinguished faculty that scholarly education has its life. We gratefully acknowledge our debt to these men.

Biology

The Biology Department, headed by Dr. Leonard and with Professors Dobbs and Patterson assisting, offers courses of value to students of any major. To those majoring in fields other than biology, courses such as botany and zoology give the student a good background in these natural sciences. Students of biology are offered a wide range of courses designed to give training in careful and accurate observations, to give insight into the fundamental laws of life and to familiarize the students with many of the common aspects of nature.

Departments

CAVIN, LOFTIN, PATTERSON

Chemistry

The Chemistry Department under the leadership of Professor Patterson offers to the students studying in it a general view of the field and to those students specializing in this field a detailed study of the various aspects of chemistry. The course of study in the department involves both theoretical and practical work.

Dr. Loftin and Dr. Cavin also teach in this department.

Economics and Business Administration

The Economics and Business Administration Department at Wofford tries to give the student of business an understanding of the organization and underlying principles of our economic life. This department, under the direction of Dr. Cauthen, also offers many advance courses which further acquaint the student with the problems and principles involved in banking, public finance, marketing, business law, and international trade. At various times in the year students are taken on trips to banks and industries to get a first hand view of the things they have been studying. In this department the student has a fine opportunity to prepare to take his place in the business world in an administrative field.

Other members of the department are Professors Lawson, Wilbur, and Troy.

WILBUR, LAWSON, TROY, CAUTHEN

Education and Psychology

The Department of Education and Psychology, headed by Professor Britt, serves a two-fold purpose. The education courses are designed to give the student seeking a profession in public school teaching, a strong background in techniques of teaching, and the various theories behind the public school curriculum. Education courses are also valuable to those preparing themselves for educational work in churches, social work, and college teaching.

Courses in psychology offer the students an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the principles of psychology, and the application of those principles to his daily living. The study of psychology is also valuable to the student preparing himself for teaching, law, medicine, the ministry, and social work. Professor Halligan also serves in this department.

BRITT, HALLIGAN

English

The Wofford College Department of English has as its chairman Doctor William B. Hunter, with Professors Kenneth Coates, Robert Loomis, and Robert O. Frantz completing the department faculty.

It is the aim of these men to teach proficiency in using, speaking, and writing the English language, and to stimulate an interest in and understanding of our literary heritage.

FRANTZ, LOOMIS, COATES, HUNTER

BOURNE, SALMON, CARNER, ADAMS

Foreign Languages

The Wofford College Department of Modern and Ancient Languages offers elementary and intermediate courses in German, Spanish, French, Latin and Greek. Advance courses are also offered in several of these languages. Under the expert guidance of the director of the department, Professor John L. Salmon, and the other staff members, Dr. Adams, Professor Bourne, Professor Carner and Professor Secondi, the student is given a good foundation in grammar, and in the advanced courses does serious reading, and is expected to develop a certain degree of fluency in a particular language.

History

In the History Department under Dr. Cauthen, the student has required and elective courses designed to enrich his understanding of his own American heritage as well as to provide him with a familiarity with the great historical events and traditions that make up the basic background in the history of Western Man. Careful study of South Carolina history and the history of the South itself gives the student a clearer vision in understanding those peculiarly Southern problems, while courses in Ancient, English, and European history give a wider appreciation of the total world situation in its many complexities.

Mathematics

Under the guidance of Dr. Hill, the Mathematics Department gives the student an opportunity to study thoroughly calculus, solid analytical geometry, differential equations and vector analysis in the advanced courses. Students are required to study in the basic math courses trigonometry, quadratic equations, and the binomial theorem, among other things. The most important aspect of this department is probably the training it gives in clear and precise thinking through the analyzing of mathematical problems. This training is invaluable in a world that sorely needs clear thinking.

Military Science

For thirty-six years Wofford College has had an active Reserve Officers Training Corp. In 1953 the Wofford detachment was given the General ROTC rating in place of the strictly Infantry program. The purpose of this department is to train Wofford men through a four-year program, which includes a six-weeks summer training period, to be commissioned in the United States Army Reserve Corps.

Colonel Raymond V. Bottomly, Jr., was Professor of Military Science and Tactics for this year and he was capably assisted by Captain James Russell and Captain Paul Walker.

Music and Art

In the Music and Art Department under Professor Moyer, the student is introduced to the technical aspects of these two fields, and is encouraged to understand the relationship music and art have to the world at large. Attention is given to the historical traditions and the more important creative personalities associated with these activities. Problems in art are related to the experiences of real life and to human needs. In music the student is directed in the art of good listening. This department is designed to make the student more sensitive to the culture of his world.

Philosophy

This department is directed by Dr. Colloms and offers a wide variety of courses designed to acquaint the student with the fundamental ideas of philosophy in the life and thought of the Western world. Through the study of philosophy, it is hoped that the student will be able to build for himself a personal philosophy of life. It is an important aim in this study that the student understand the value of having a significant philosophy of life.

Physical Education

In this department, the emphasis is on promoting health, growth, and development of the body. Activities such as volleyball, tumbling, basketball, football, and others are made available to the student. Health education and training in organizing group games for recreation are also taught. Advanced courses prepare the student for teaching physical education and coaching in a high school. The department is headed by Professor Scheerer, with the aid of Coach Walker.

Physics and Geology

This department is headed by Professor Pettis, and in it the student has an opportunity to study such aspects of physics as heat, wave motion, electricity and light. Advanced courses provide a study of geology, navigation and theoretical physics. The splendid rock and fossil collection at Wofford make the geology classes interesting, as it serves to demonstrate the information that is talked about in class.

Religion

The Religion Department provides both comprehensive and intensive Bible study. It presents an opportunity to become acquainted with the basic areas of religion as foundations for a better understanding of the Christian faith and its practice among college students.

Moreover, the object steadily kept in view is to discover and acquire the historical values as well as the philosophical principles which are fundamental in all offerings of the department. Doctor C. F. Nesbitt heads this department with the assistance of Professor Reese Griffin.

Sociology and Government

The Department of Sociology is designed to give the student a thorough background of the theories, development, structure, and functioning of social institutions, along with an introduction to some of the practical applications of the social sciences as found in human relations. The student is also introduced to some of the modern techniques of research as a part of the scientific method. Dr. Norton heads this department with Dr. Doby assisting.

Registration Day

"There Must Be A Better Way" would be an appropriate title for this painfully necessary event. It is not the lines, nor the noise, nor the teachers that make registration so great an ordeal . . . though those things all combine to have an effect on the pleasant, even-tempered radiance of the Wofford gentleman. There is just something about nearing the end of the line only to be told a certain section is no longer available, and to start changing that schedule in order to take something else. It is an ill-starred fate for any struggling student.

Yet this is the one time when it is most completely true that all Wofford suffers together. Even the teachers. While nobody here probably believes it at the time of registration, the fellowship of suffering is supposed to be a comforting thing. Hmmm. Maybe so. But there still must be a better way to handle registration.

DR. BRENT gets a student's view of registration.

Dormitory Life

Dormitory life has been described, not inaccurately, as similar to living in a second rate hotel during a shriners' convention. This thumbnail description may be ungenerous but the accusations contained in it are not altogether unfair.

To the new student freshly arrived in college the communal conditions under which he has to live may appal him, but after he has learned to sacrifice his individuality to some degree and become as one with the mass, which is the American ideal, he learns there are several genuine advantages to be learned from dormitory life.

The dormitory student is the possessor of a freedom which, though it has never been defined in a bill, includes the right to fail out of school and the right to sleep late on Sunday Morning, both of which are fiercely defended and exploited to the fullest.

The greatest advantage to be gained by the dormitory student is to lead his life of "quiet desperation" in peace and harmony with his fellow man and learn to appreciate him—and endure him.

Ratting

The period of ratting will always remain sacred to the freshman's heart. The ratting program was whole heartily accepted and effectively put to use in teaching the freshmen new ways in his new life.

The first step of his new life began when he placed upon his head the little ornament called a rat-cap. This cap was to be worn at all times in all places. The little sessions in front of Greene Hall where the freshmen so enthusiastically entertained the upperclassmen added another high note in the ratting season.

The season was brought to a close with the traditional tug-of-war, which the freshmen—in strict tradition—won.

RED, with a smile, a hat, and a coke, tries to influence a couple of freshmen, during rush week.

Rushing

"Rushing is the legal manner by which fraternities shall secure new members to their organizations." Few decisions are as important in a college man's life as his choice of a fraternity.

Rush week to the freshmen is a hectic and confusing time climaxed by the unforgettable pledge day. To the upperclassman rush week is a nerve racking and suspenseful period during which "his best foot must be forward at all times."

One of the social highlights of the year, rush week is keynoted by parties, smokers, pretty girls, "frat talk", and questions. But it is also a week of forming many new and lasting friendships. It is a time when freshmen and upperclassmen get to know each other, and ties are made with the future.

Homecoming—a good day for students as well as the “alums.”

Miss Betsy Stockman of Greenwood was elected by a student panel to reign as Queen of Homecoming. She was crowned by the retiring queen, Miss Ann Ward of Converse College.

The Inter-Fraternity council held an informal dance after the game. The bigger dance Friday night featured Dean Hudson and his orchestra, and a good time was had by all.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity received the trophy for the most outstanding float with Pi Kappa Alpha taking second place in the parade that passed through Spartanburg Saturday afternoon.

THE FLOAT of Kappa Sigma fraternity was a Terrier from the mountains leading a captured Indian. With their fine float, the Sigs captured first prize.

DICKIE and his date seemed to have had a good time.

The Winter Ball

As a prelude to our Christmas holidays, the dance association, under the leadership of chairman Fred DuBard secured the orchestra of Billy May for the annual Winter Ball on December 15 in the Memorial Auditorium.

To the mellow music of May, everyone danced 'til the clock struck twelve. Climaxing the evening the gents and their dates stopped by their newly finished fraternity lodges for an early morning snack. Oh, what a beautiful morning!

The music of Billy May has been replaced by the songs of May itself, but for many the melody is the same.

Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa was founded on December 5, 1776, at William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name. From that small beginning in one of the cradles of the American nation and in its transplantation to another cradle of the nation, the colleges of New England, the society has spread over the entire nation and become one of the most honored societies in the world.

The Wofford Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Beta of South Carolina, was chartered in January of 1941. The charter was granted to the holders of the key who were officially connected with the college at the time. It is one of the two chapters in the state.

During the past sixteen years since its inauguration here the local chapter has firmly held to the high ideals and purposes for which the society was founded.

Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities

A number of outstanding Seniors are chosen by the faculty every year to appear in the annual publication of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Selection is made on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and service to the college during a four-year period. Those men chosen are usually class officers, organizational presidents, fraternity leaders, and publication heads.

Blue Key

On the basis of character and personality members are chosen for the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity. These men are recognized on the campus as leaders in scholarship and college activities.

The fraternity was originally founded at the University of Florida in 1924 by Major J. P. Riley. From the original organization of 25 men, Blue Key has grown to a total membership of over 20,000 men in more than 80 leading universities and colleges.

The organization promotes better understanding between Wofford and her rivals, and also sponsors the annual High School weekend.

Pi Gamma Mu is a national social science honor fraternity. The purpose of this fraternity is to ingrain in its members the ideals of tolerance, idealism, and scientific procedure in dealing with the complex social problems of our day. This fraternity, which enrolls students with high ratings in social science courses, does not seek to support any particular economic pattern for society. It does, however, encourage its members to adopt objective research and painstaking fact-finding before coming to any specific decision.

David Stuart served as president of the group for this year.

Sigma Delta Psi

Wofford's Chapter of Sigma Delta Psi, a national honorary athletic fraternity, was organized in the spring of 1950 and has had a continuous existence since then with a membership of less than ten men.

Membership in this coveted athletic fraternity can only be attained by the passing of rigorous physical tests. These tests include the hurdles, the dash, the football and baseball throw for distance and accuracy, swimming—in general all-round ability at athletics.

Sigma Delta Psi is represented on the faculty by Coaches Joel Robertson and William Scheerer, Librarian Herbert Hucks, and Dean Philip Covington.

Delta Phi Alpha

Delta Phi Alpha, national honorary German fraternity, was founded here at Wofford in the year 1929 by Dr. James A. Chiles and John Idson.

The Wofford Chapter, being the Alpha Chapter of the fraternity, has enjoyed a great tradition. It is generally accorded to be one of the highest honors that a student of the modern languages can attain.

During the academic year, the group presents a number of interesting programs designed to correlate classroom work with the colorful folklore and traditions of the German people.

Professor William R. Bourne is the faculty advisor to the group.

Sigma Delta Pi

Sigma Delta Pi, national honorary Spanish fraternity, is Wofford's most recently established honorary group. Membership is reserved to men in the third-year Spanish course who show better-than-average interest and achieve a high grade point ratio.

Wofford's chapter, Gamma Xi, is one of eighty chapters throughout the nation.

The group functions both as an honorary and as a working organization to stimulate student interest in the Spanish-speaking nations and peoples of our hemisphere.

Professors Adams, Jones, and Salmon served as advisors for the group this year.

The Old Gold and Black

DOANE JAMES, Sports Editor

The Old Gold and Black is a non-profit institution—to the despair of its harried editors who wish it were otherwise.

According to the college catalog "... it keeps the record of the news and happenings on the campus, together with editorial comments and interpretations of matters of special interest to the students."

In its endeavors to fulfill this stated ideal the paper occasionally sails a troubled sea but, thanks to solicitous guidance, its rightful course is resumed.

Looking back over old issues of the Old Gold and Black a definite standardization of make-up evolves and we feel the present paper so far as readability and eye-appeal is concerned, is the best yet achieved.

The changes in this year's paper have been mostly in the "interpretations of matters of special interest to the students." There has been a slight difference of opinion as to the real definition of "interpretation" but this only added to the interest which a college newspaper is supposed to inspire.

This year's editors wish to thank the loyal staff members (all three of 'em) who labored the long hours with us and were, on more than one occasion, dismayed to find the rosy-fingered dawn hard upon them—and with a German test that day, too. To these and all the rest who offered us aid and comfort we thank you.

The Journal

This year under the intellectual leadership of John Jones and the artistic hand of Dan McMillan The Journal underwent a face-lifting and a revival of interest.

"The Journal was established in 1889 and is a magazine intended to represent the best intellectual life of the student body. In addition to its editorials, the material in it consists of essays on serious topics, stories, and poems, and the method of treatment is literary in character. It is published five times during the school year."

It is Wofford's oldest student publication and it continues to give Wofford men a chance to develop their literary talent and present their views on various topics to the other students at large.

The Bohemian

THE BOHEMIAN is published every year by the student body in an attempt to record for the future the life of a school during an academic year.

The catalogue describes THE BOHEMIAN as a "handsome, illustrated volume." This statement may be open to question but in any event the object of THE BOHEMIAN is to present in pictures and writing the events both big and small that occur during the year.

It is sincerely hoped by THE BOHEMIAN staff that looking through this book in the future will mean as much to you as compiling it has meant to us.

The Publications Board

The Publications Board has control over the financial policies of all student publications. This board is composed of four faculty members and five students, and it is always available to advise the staffs of the publications in any way. It is not a board of censorship, however; its primary purpose is to maintain the existence of the student publications.

WALLACE CULP, Secretary

ARCHIE BARRON, Treasurer

The Student Council is composed of the elected representatives of all the students. The executive officers, President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, together with the class presidents, complete the council. This council considers many matters of student interest. They present petitions from the students to the faculty, help organize athletic and social events and this year, under the leadership of President Donnie Fowler of Spartanburg, the council was instrumental in receiving a lower gasoline charge for students at some of the stations near the campus. The council is the students best voice in the affairs of the school.

Student Christian Association

The emphasis this year has been on programs. With this in mind, the cabinet has developed a plan which brought the best of programs to the students, and it also reached out to the different organizations for their cooperation. This enabled the students to both profit from and share in the work of the S. C. A.

Exchanges of deputation teams, Religious Emphasis Week, fall and spring projects, and the work at Brotherhood Center have all gone into this year's activities.

Upon entering Wofford, one is made a member of S. C. A. It is a uniting agency for the many organizations of the campus.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is the organization of the Baptist students on the Wofford campus. It is, in a sense, their "college church". It seeks to enrich the lives of its members through its various programs and activities. This year under the leadership of Jack Blanton of Orangeburg, and Mrs. Helen Davis, B. S. U. Director for the Spartanburg area, the Baptists sponsored many projects such as The Morning Watch devotionals held each day in the Tower Chapel before classes.

Working with the Baptist Student Unions at other institutions in the city the Wofford organization seeks to foster the social as well as the religious life of the Baptist college students of Wofford.

The Methodist Student Movement

The Methodist Student Movement at Wofford functions simultaneously with the Spartanburg area M. S. M. which includes Methodist students from Converse, Spartanburg General Hospital, Spartanburg Junior College as well as Wofford. The weekly meetings of this group are held at Central Methodist Church on Sunday evening.

This year under the energetic leadership of Dick Gibson of Shelby, North Carolina, the group participated in many social projects such as its annual winter clothing drive for needy families. Through its weekly worship programs which included lectures, movies and panel discussions it sought to develop the religious life of students at Wofford.

Debate Team

"Resolved: That the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries." During the past year, this has been the national, collegiate debate topic which the Wofford debate teams have considered. As in every other year, this year's topic has been one of current, national interest with evenly divided support for each side.

During the academic year, the Wofford teams have participated in several intercollegiate tournaments, among them the South Atlantic Debate Tournament at Lenoir-Rhyne College and the Carolina Forensics at the University of South Carolina.

The debate teams are an important part of the extra-curricular activities in that they furnish valuable experience to pre-law students, ministerial students, and also those interested in current affairs. The debate activities fill the gap left by the now defunct literary societies, which were important parts of the college during its early years, by providing verbal dueling grounds for collegiate orators.

The Ministerial Union

The Wofford College Ministerial Union is the organization of those students—not necessarily Methodist—who plan to enter the ministry or who are considering the ministry as a vocation. The group sponsors various projects including assistance at the Student Christian Association's Brotherhood Center projects and weekly deputation teams to old folks homes near the school. In these various activities the future preachers are given a chance to develop their talents. The bi-monthly programs are designed to provide—through speakers and discussions—an opportunity for a more complete development of the student. The organization also provides a means for closer fellowship between those who plan to enter the ministry.

Leon Thompson served as president of the group during this school year.

The American Chemical Society

The American Chemical Society at Wofford is affiliated with the national organization. The Wofford chapter was granted its original charter in 1949 and since then has taken its place as a leading pre-profession group.

Under the energetic leadership of President Frank Stanton and faculty advisor, Dr. J. C. Loftin, the main project this year was the annual Chemistry Fair which attracts students from a wide area surrounding Spartanburg. The purpose of this fair is to acquaint students with the developments in science through interesting demonstrations given by the students. While at the fair many high school students get their first look at Wofford.

Glee Club

The Wofford College Glee Club in 1957 again sang its way into the hearts of audiences it performed for both in and out of South Carolina. Having sung before more than 50,000 people, the club ended its season at the Memorial Auditorium in its annual home concert.

The success of the Wofford College Glee Club is due to the great understanding and hard work of Sam Moyer, its director. This year Moyer's men combined sacred and secular music to please everyone. They had as a sidelight the Tennessee Dewdrops to add more variety and enjoyment to the program. This year Bill Moyer served as president and "Diddy" Carlson was general manager.

The Band

In considering college activities, there are many jobs which may fall into the category of most essential.

All during the school year, the band has been hard at work—at Christmas parades, pep rallies, football games, basketball contests, and a number of school functions.

This year the band was under the direction of Professor Sam Moyer and “the men of the blue blazers” proudly upheld the traditional appearance, and fine music that the Moyer groups are known for.

In addition to band duty many of the members also serve with the Wofford R.O.T.C. band which performs at all military ceremonies.

Bill Moyer was president of the group this year.

The Inter-Fraternity Council

The purpose of the Inter-Fraternity Council is to provide coordination for the activities of Wofford's seven social fraternities. This includes supplying the necessary rules and regulations for the all important Rush Week held in December. During Rush Week this year there were relatively few serious violations of the regulations.

The Inter-Fraternity Council assisted this year in the promotion of the annual homecoming. Marcus Huff of North Augusta served as president.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Working at furnishing the new lodge, rushing, pledging twenty men, activating ten brothers, dancing at innumerable parties, associating with the finest men on campus—these and other unmentionable ramifications were only a small part of the enormous amount of experiences that helped to contribute to the success of Beta Phi's celebration of the 112th year of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Aside from shafts, headaches, and the like which vainly attempt to dissuade men from their bacchanalian self-enlightenment, the Sigs have enjoyed themselves as in no other year.

Delta Sigma Phi was founded in 1899 at the City College of New York. Psi Chapter here at Wofford was established in 1916.

Under the supervision of our advisor, W. E. Buice, and the three Alumni Control officials, A. D. Cudd, K. S. Covington and Joe E. Hines, the Chapter has done a complete job of furnishing the new lodge—these lodges were a much appreciated improvement to the campus and for the fraternities.

In the spring the Delta Sigs had their usual good time at the annual Sailor's Ball.

Archie Barron served as this year's President.

Kappa Alpha

Oldest of the social fraternities on Wofford's Campus, Delta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order was established in 1869. The Order itself was established earlier at Washington and Lee College. K. A. has constantly strived to remain high in religious, scholastic, and athletic activities.

A very successful rush season has added to the ranks of Kappa Alpha. Now there are fifty-seven chapter members.

Socially the Delta K. A.'s with other state chapters convened at Columbia in March for the annual Old South Weekend. Climax of the year's social festivities was the banquet and dance at the Farmers Ball.

Kappa Sigma

In 1869, Kappa Sigma was founded nationally at the University of Virginia. Alpha Nu's birthday at Wofford was in 1894.

The December Rush, which gained for Kappa Sigma twenty-two fine pledges, was immediately followed by the annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children.

The "Weekend", which was anticipated by every Sig all year long, came in the spring as the fraternity staged its annual "Stardust Ball" in the Memorial Auditorium.

Kappa Sigma again this year has claimed her usual share of the honors and recognitions, and has been very active in all of the campus activities.

Mr. T. B. Thackston advised the fraternity again this year as Wallace Watson and Sonny Clardy served as presidents.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha is the youngest fraternity on the campus, having been re-established here in 1951.

Since that time our chapter has grown energetically and now ranks with the best fraternities on the campus. We are proud of the record it has made and look forward to continued success.

During the year Nu chapter moved into its new lodge. Nu chapter expresses its appreciation to the administration for the establishment of the new lodge system.

Once again Pi Kappa Alpha had a very successful rush season with the pledging of twenty fine boys.

Nu chapter ranked very high in the scholarship field placing second among the seven fraternities.

Another Pika achievement was the Homecoming Float Contest in which Nu chapter placed second.

Nu chapter was well represented in all phases of extra-curricular activities. Members of the fraternity were in the Glee Club, Student Christian Association, Ministerial Union, Scabbard and Blade, Band, Aristocrats, Pi Gamma Mu, Blue Key, and Who's Who.

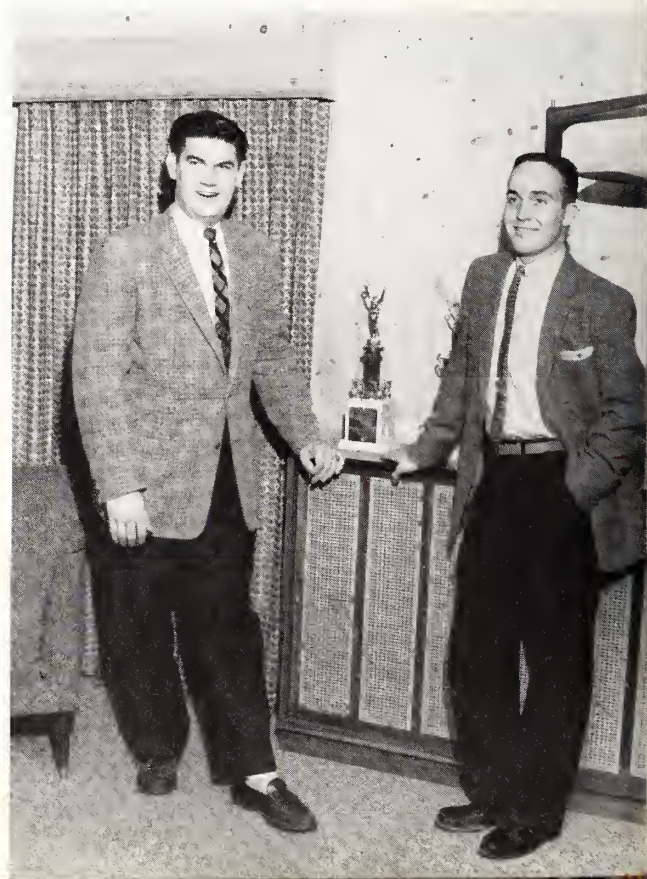

Nu chapter was also represented on the football team.

The Dream Girl Ball in the spring climaxed the highlight of the social season for Nu.

Pi Kappa Phi

Zeta Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi Social Fraternity was established at Wofford in 1911.

The Pi Kaps finished a great Rush season with the acquisition of 18 fine pledges.

Zeta's new lodge was completely and practically furnished. The chapter sends its thanks to the generous alumni who helped in furnishing the lodge.

The year's social highlight was the Annual Rose Ball held in the Spring. The "Steak and Mush" supper was on the list as another memorable social event, and also several Dining Parties added to Zeta's activities.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Founded in 1885, South Carolina Gamma Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon experienced an excellent year during 1956-57 from many standpoints. With E. A. Templeton and Rush Chairman Ernest Ray Ouzts at the helm, the Sig Alphas again led its six brother fraternities for the second straight year in total number of pledges during rush season with a gain of twenty-six men.

The thirty-nine brothers and twenty-nine pledges of S. A. E. enjoyed moving into the new fraternity lodges at long last and set to work furnishing the new surroundings. With invaluable aid from alumni and friends the S. A. E. temple was completely furnished and placed in the immediate care of House Manager Evans Holland.

Throughout the year the lions of S. A. E. were active in intramural sports and S. C. A. programs. The school year was climaxed with the annual Fraternity Weekend which included a banquet and dance.

Craig Templeton and James Martin both served as president this year.

The Battalion

The Battalion staff is composed of Cadet Captain W. P. Baskin, Adjutant; D. L. Fowler, Executive Officer; Cadet J. A. Berry, S-3; Cadet Captain R. M. Huff, S-2; Cadet Captain G. R. Rice, S-4; Cadet Captain J. C. Ellison, Chaplain; Cadet 1st Lt. J. R. Thrailkill, Assistant Adjutant; Cadet Sergeant L. J. Moore; Sergeant Major; Cadet Sergeant H. M. McCleod, Assistant Sergeant Major.

To have a good army you must have good officers, and that simply, is the purpose of the Wofford College Reserve Officers Training Program. In four years of classes and weekly drill and a summer camp that involves a little broader training program, the men pictured on the following pages are learning to become capable, self-reliant, and intelligent leaders in the U. S. Army. Upon graduation most of them will receive commissions as second lieutenants. They will serve in many branches of the army: Infantry, Adjutant General Corps, Armor, Intelligence, and many others. The positions that they will find are important and the training that they are receiving here is very valuable.

The Scabbard and Blade

Wofford's Company of Scabbard and Blade was chartered in the year 1928, and has been active since then excluding the brief period of the Second World War.

Membership in the Scabbard and Blade is granted on the basis of outstanding achievement in the field of military science. The membership in this organization is generally accorded to be the highest honor which the student of military science can attain.

The unit this year is commanded by Cadet Captain William P. Baskin.

The Coaches

Behind any successful teams, such as Wofford was able to field in its outstanding 1956 football season of seven wins and three losses, there is always a battery of good coaches. These men teach the fundamentals, provide strategy and instill the spirit that is necessary to win football games.

Wofford is fortunate in having a set of coaches capable of doing these things. Coaches Snidow, Brakefield, and McCarren have in the past few years given the Wofford fans teams of which they can be justly proud. The highlight for this year came when the Terriers defeated The Citadel at the Orangeburg Fair.

In addition to handling football assignments, Brakefield coaches the baseball team, while McCarren handles the track team. Coach Walker directs the newly organized acrobatic team.

Cheerleaders

Though it is sometimes overlooked, the shouts, the feelings and the emotions of the cheering section—particularly the student body—are a very integral part of an athletic contest. To the cheerleaders falls the all important task of making this part of the game successful. Wofford was quite fortunate this year in having cheerleaders who were willing to work hard and long in this activity. Under the leadership of David Lane of Bishopville, the cheerleaders led the yells at pep rallies and at the games and did very much to increase school spirit as well as generate strong support for the team. The Wofford men were, as is our fortunate custom, assisted by the lovely ladies from the 'Verse again this year.

The Block W Club

The Block "W" Club is the organization of all the students who have distinguished themselves while at Wofford by winning a letter on any of the intercollegiate athletic teams. It is a hard earned honor and the winners of the "big W" can be justly proud of their attainment.

Through the course of the school year, the Club maintains a balanced program of activities and sponsors various projects designed to further their objective—strengthening of the Wofford athletic program. Not least among the activities of this Club is the annual "Block 'W' initiation" which is regarded as a classic event by those who have participated in it.

Del Combs, of Hazard, Kentucky served as president this year.

THE NO. 23 uncorks one of his many passes.

"THE BULL" moves for yardage against the Gamecocks.

South Carolina's untested Gamecocks under their new mentor, Warren Giese, took on Wofford's traditional small college titans on September 15 at Carolina Stadium to christen the state's 1956 football program.

The Birds took the opening kick-off and marched straight downfield to score as the home partisans settled back to watch the Giese machine route Coach Snidow's "little boys."

It wasn't long, however, before the opposing forward wall discovered that George Rice, Jay Sentell, Roger Hagy, and company were not so little. The Terrier forward wall dug in and held the Birds in check throughout the remainder of the half.

In the meanwhile Wofford's quarterback, Charlie Bradshaw, playing in his first college football game, showed Carolina's highly touted Mackie Prickett how to run an offense. A second period touchdown play which saw Bradshaw pitch back to halfback Reddick Still who passed to end Twitty Carpenter, enabled the Terriers to maintain a 7-7 draw at halftime.

The Wofford defense continued to shine in the third quarter, but the mainstays of the Gold and Black line grew weary in the final stanza as the Gamecock's depth began to show.

The other Terrier tally came in the third quarter when Bradshaw hit Jerry Richardson with a TD pass.

RICHARDSON pulls in one of his habitual great catches.

An interference penalty in the last two minutes of play helped the North State Champion Lenoir-Rhyne Bears push across the winning touchdown to defeat Wofford 13-7.

It was a heart-breaking defeat for the stout Terrier forward wall which three times halted the visitors powerful single wing offense beneath the shadows of the goal posts.

Guards Jimmy Rampey and Evans Holland, and center Jay Sentell were all big guns in the brilliant defensive show.

The Terriers scored first when Charlie Bradshaw connected with Jerry Richardson in the second quarter.

The Wofford ground game suffered a crucial blow in the second quarter when halback Frank (The Bull) DePrete left the game with a broken rib.

"IF I just had one more leg!"
A TERRIER dive for the extra yard.
JERRY does a fancy step and gets away.

"BIG SMOKY" calls a head.
A LITTLE minute that makes a lot of difference.

The chips were down but the Terriers were not to be denied as they met arch-rival Presbyterian College on Snyder Field.

Quarterback Bradshaw hit his top stride, halfback Kent Hall filled in beautifully for DePrete, and the Wofford line bottled up the Blue Stockings famed running attack most of the way.

The Terriers were victory hungry and opened the game by driving straight down-field to score with Hall going over.

The Wofford line, led by big George Rice, buckled down to the task of stopping Ken Webb and company as the Hose backs had trouble getting past the line of scrimmage.

Meanwhile Bradshaw was staging a brilliant offensive show, and before their stunned opponents could get started, the score was Wofford 27, P. C. 0.

WOFFORD	27

Both P. C. touchdowns came in the second half when Coach Snidow began substituting.

The Wofford scores were made by Hall's run, a pass from Still to Carpenter, a Bradshaw-Burns pass and a run by Still.

The entire line was outstanding defensively, including George Rice, Jay Sentell, Evans Holland, Jimmy Rampey, Roger Hagy, Jackie Sexton, and Burns.

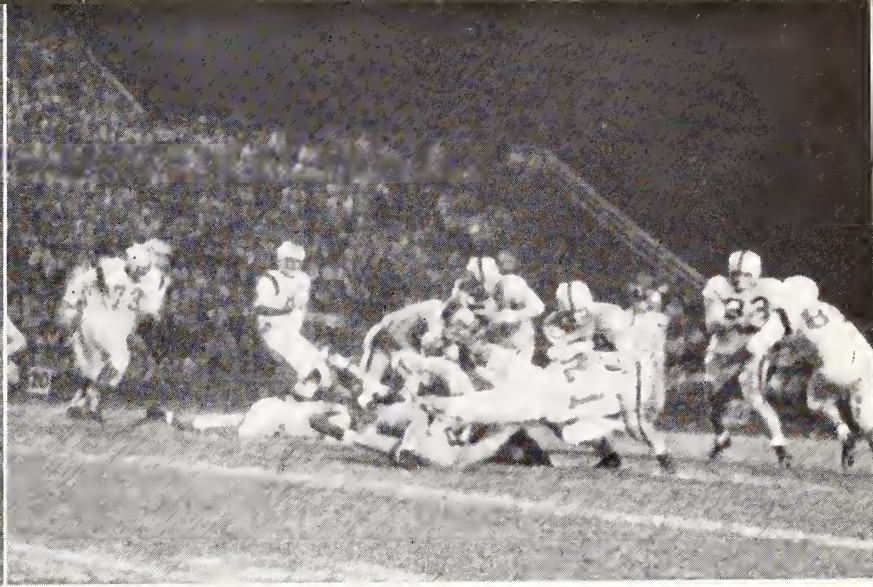

"NOW COACH, the way I see it . . ."

FRANK crosses the double stripe.

SENTELL, Rice, Hagy, Holland, and company strike again.

End Jerry Richardson was the "man of the hour" as the Terriers invaded Newberry's new football field to clinch the Little Three Championship.

When a stout Indian line halted the Wofford ground attack, Bradshaw resorted to the air route and Richardson in a thrilling scoring duel.

The lanky end from Fayetteville, N. C. kept his team in the game with his timely catches and phenomenal broken field running. He scored three times on runs of 40, 50, and 66 yards. His night's work included 7 receptions for 241 yards.

Newberry quarterback, Steve Peterson, did a good job of matching wits with Bradshaw, but the Terriers, with one Little Three win under their belts, bounced back time and again.

Frank (The Bull) DePrete returned to action and teamed up with Kent Hall to carry most of the offensive load.

Wofford jumped off to a 12-0 lead in the first quarter. Hall set up the score with a 40-yard sprint immediately following the kick-off, and DePrete legged it into the end zone from ten yards out.

Minutes later the Terriers hit pay dirt again; this time with Kent Hall carrying.

The Terrier defense was under par as Furman gained consistently only to fold up deep in Wofford territory. Fumbles and penalties hampered the Hurricanes throughout the game.

Wofford scored again in the final quarter with DePrete carrying the mail. Furman scored their first touchdown of the season in the closing minutes of the game.

CARPENTER eyes the situation and gives his approval.

Once again the annual dogfight between Wofford's Terriers and The Citadel's Bulldogs highlighted the Orangeburg County Fair, and this time it turned out to be "one of those days."

This looked like the year for Coach Johnny Sauer's revitalized football program as the Cadets threw an unbeaten record on tap against the twice-taken Terriers.

The big blue grabbed an early 7-0 advantage on a sustained drive that opened the game, but Wofford rebounded with touchdowns by Hall and Bradshaw to move ahead 14-7. Then Citadel speedster Angelo Coia electrified the crowd with a 60-yard scoring sprint. The Terriers lead at half-time 14-13.

WOFFORD	23
CITADEL	19

A blocked punt and a Cadet recovery in the Wofford end zone left the Terriers on the short end of a 19-14 score in the third period. Shortly afterwards, with the Bulldogs on their own goal line, a Citadel back elected to run out of the end zone, giving the Terriers a safety.

Trailing 19-16 with time becoming a big factor, the Terriers were deep in their own territory. Bradshaw, playing his best game of the season, took to the air and began using a pass-lateral series that carried them to the one-yard line where he sneaked it across.

It was probably Wofford's biggest win of the year, extending a four-game winning streak, and completing a clean sweep of the intra-state rivals.

The Hatters rushed Bradshaw well most of the night, but halfbacks Hall and DePrete had a field day at the expense of the Floridians.

Hall carried 12 times for 180 yards and four touchdowns, as he smashed Joe Hazle's rushing mark of 142 yards and also surged ahead of teammate Richardson in the scoring parade. DePrete ran 13 times, gaining 137 yards and scoring one touchdown.

The Hatters' only consolation was that it was the first game they had managed to score more than once. Running from a spread formation, they relied mostly on the passing of Dickie Saltrick.

Jackie Sexton, Roger Hagy, Evans Holland, and Bob Hall played well up front for Wofford. Jerry Richardson kicked five extra points to become the Terrier's number one toe man.

IT TAKES MORE than eleven men to win a football game.

AWWW, what a life!

DO YOU really think they're throwing mud, Heyward?

Disaster struck on homecoming, as the inevitable let-down finally caught up with the high-riding Gold and Blacks. The opportunists for the second straight year were Catawba's massive Indians, who completely out-charged and outrushed the sluggish Terriers.

Wofford provided an opening thrill for the alumni when the highly-touted Bradshaw-Richardson combo clicked for a first period TD.

From then on, however, it was all Catawba, as Coach Clyde Bigger's boys moved the ball in every way possible through the Terrier defense.

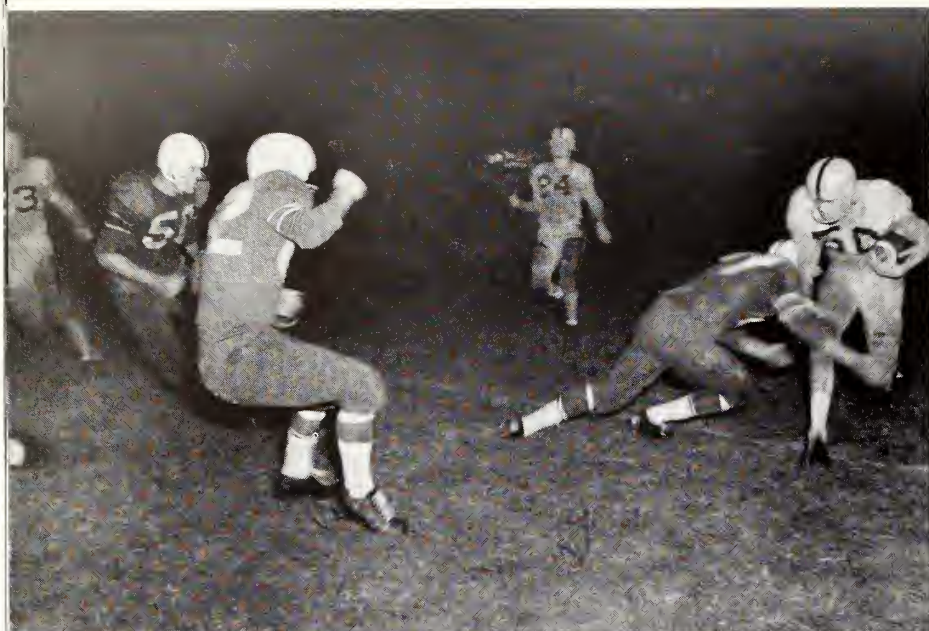

Paced by all-state fullback, Larry Gildersleeve, the Indians consistently reeled off chunks of yardage through the Wofford line.

One of the few bright spots for Wofford was the linebacking of center Jay Sentell who, playing with an injured hand, turned in another bruising defensive performance.

"NOW FELLOWS, this play is slightly illegal, so Rice you block out the umpire, Hagy you get the referee . . ."

For awhile it looked like another bad day at the races for the Terriers, as Davidson's once-beaten Wildcats stormed into Snyder Field and grabbed a 14-6 halftime lead, but Coach Snidow's boys showed a complete reversal of form in the second half to win 27-14 and break their North Carolina jinx.

With quarterbacks Dick Belton and Dyck Little at the helm Davidson dominated the first half and gained almost at will.

Conger bulled two yards for the first Davidson score and Warden got the other on a one-yard plunge.

Wofford came back with a lone tally before the half ended with Frank DePrete going over from twelve yards out.

The second half was all Wofford. The inspired home team opened up a potent ground attack that netted them 376 yards rushing and three more touchdowns.

It was DePrete's night to romp as the junior from West Warwick, Rhode Island scored two more on runs of 8 and 4 yards. Kent Hall also scored his ninth touchdown of the season on a 7-yard sprint.

Big men in the line were Holland, Selltell, Rice, Hagy, and Lowrance.

It was the Terrier's seventh consecutive decision over a Southern Conference team.

Six seniors ended their football careers at Wofford against an outmanned Western Carolina eleven. Ends Weyland Burns and Jackie Sexton, tackle George Rice, guards Evans Holland and Craig McKenzie, and center Jay Sentell finished up in a blaze of glory as the Terriers won their seventh game against three defeats.

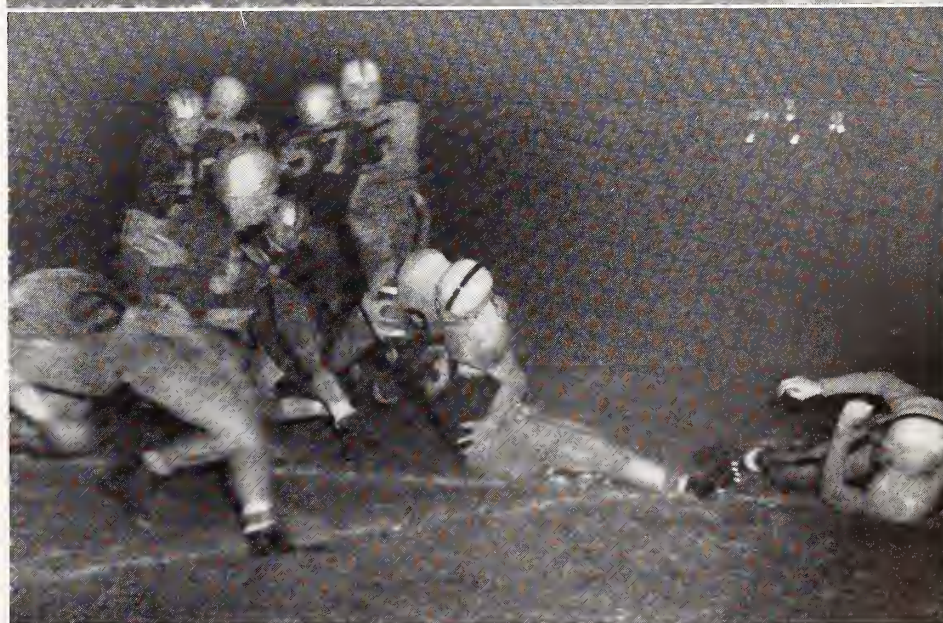

Frank DePrete, Charlie Bradshaw, Frank (Pee Wee) Greene, Kent Hall, Bill Neely, and Jackie Drawdy, all joined in the scoring parade as Coach Snidow emptied his bench.

The Team

The hustle and determination of Wofford's basketball team was not indicated by the record in the won-lost column this season. Getting off to a slow start the Terriers Five grew progressively better throughout the season. Led in the scoring column by Captain Donnie Fowler the team first passed the century mark against a good Mercer team shortly after Christmas.

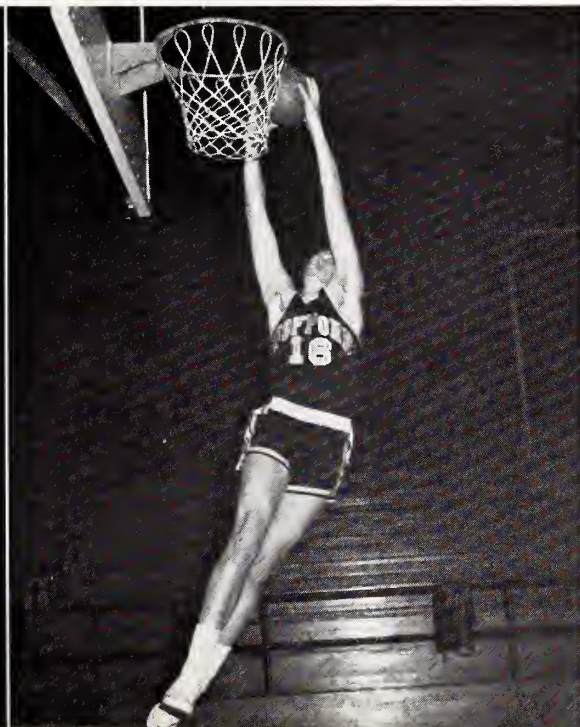

Wofford's four-year men—Donnie Fowler and Craig "free shot" Templeton were supported by a crew of fine looking freshmen who promise Wofford some interesting basketball in the future.

The Wofford College Baseball team, this year under the leadership of Coach Jim Brakefield, underwent an almost complete rebuilding program.

With only three letter men returning from last year's outstanding team—the best in the state—the batsmen of Wofford displayed outstanding team play and energetic baseball as they compiled a very satisfactory won-lost record supporting the well accepted idea that Wofford's baseball teams are among the best in the state.

The many "rookies" that performed superbly for the Terriers gave indication that Wofford's baseball future is bright.

Returning from last year's team were Joe Davis, Dale Warner, Tommy Wilkes, Carl Reasonover and Frank Austell.

The net men this year met Wofford's annually tough opposition with energetic, and inspiring play and kept Wofford among the best teams in the state.

Track

Wofford's cinder and sawdust men this year all had at least one common characteristic—inexperience—at the beginning of the season, but a few rapid trips around a hot track against stiff competition made seasoned veterans of all of them.

With a team composed of freshmen only the Terriers began a rebuilding program which will—if present indications are true—take them again into prominence as one of the top track teams of the state.

Under the leadership of coach McCarren, the Terriers panted through a season that is likely to prove to be the bottom rung on a ladder that leads up.

The golf team was able to compile a very creditable record this year in its representation of Wofford on the links.

Under the coaching of Joe Robertson and student coach Jim Fleming, the Terriers were well represented in a sport that is really beginning to catch on in college circles.

With returning lettermen Fleming, Hawkins, Huff, Mace and Still and strong support from several new men the Terriers held a number of successful matches against many state teams and participated in many tournaments in the region.

Acrobatic Team

Wofford's acrobatic team is its most recent contribution to the dual worlds of athletics and aviation. Under the guidance of coach Walker the team this year performed before the homefolks at various basketball games, at high schools in the area and on T.V. The "highpoint" of their endeavors was a trip to Winthrop College which was so impressive that they were invited for a return performance later in the year.

With Bill Jeffries as captain, the "big bouncers" attained a high standard of interesting entertainment in an activity that requires a sense of balance and timing as well as much hard work to attain graceful form.

A liberal arts college, seeks to develop a student in many ways. Among the students-at-large the intramural program here at Wofford is their opportunity for physical exercise and development.

This year under the leadership of coach W. W. Scheerer and student manager Carroll Emery the intramural program was effectively conducted. The activities of the program included six-man football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and many others. An intramural track meet was successfully held in the spring.

During the year teams representing the seven fraternities, the dormitories, and the day students participated in the various events. Competition for the total team score was very keen.

CLASSES

FRESHMEN

Leaving behind past high school glories, an amalgamation of rather confused students gathered on the Wofford campus for the first time early in September to make the noble effort of furthering their education. In the cool mountains of North Carolina at Orientation Camp, the confusion soon dissipated into confidence as these students began to feel the relation of oneness in making up the freshman class of 1957—the graduating class of 1960.

After enduring the painful task of “ratting,” we found much enjoyment in “partying” during rush season. Other enjoyments were found by making frequent trips to Converse, Limestone, and Winthrop and also by making acquaintances with Spartanburg High School’s girls. Our first experience with college exams may not have been too impressive, but we gained valuable knowledge toward making our remaining three years more pleasant. This all added up to a memorable experience—our freshman year.

SOME of the sophomores tugging in their annual tangle with the "rats". The rats won, as usual, and were then automatically classed as "human".

FOR OBVIOUS REASONS it is nice to go to football games even if we don't win.

SOPHOMORES

We have now completed half of our careers as college men. In a way it was a long time ago when we first entered Wofford, and in a way it will be a long time before we leave. Standing at the mid-point in college life, we see progress and a developing maturity in our experience. Also we see the new responsibilities that are coming to us, and we intend to be prepared.

From here on out the new opportunities will be made successes—and from it all will come true Wofford gentlemen. That's for this year's freshmen and ourselves to remember.

Now that we have completed our third year, we stand on the threshold of completing our college careers. We are to fill the positions held by few men, yet these, in their greatness, were many.

We may look back upon three grand and glorious years. Years, richly filled with the developing of minds and bodies to their mental and spiritual capacities.

We enter our fourth and senior year with the high hope and the firm determination to leave to our alma mater and those students who come after us a fine heritage.

Now that four years have passed us by, we, the Senior Class of 1957, find ourselves well prepared to face any obstacles which may block our paths. Here at Wofford we have learned to confront our problems in a Christian way.

In years to come we will look back on the many wonderful times we have spent here at Wofford. The Socials, the Ball Games, the Gatherings at the Lodges, and all the many other things that made Wofford such a great place.

We find ourselves ready to represent Wofford in the fields of medicine, education, religion, business, and military. Whatever fields we are in we will see Wofford men as the leaders of tomorrow.
